

WILSON TAKES OATH OF OFFICE AS PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

ECOMES NATIONAL EXECUTIVE IN PRECEDENT BREAKING INAUGURATION

Brilliant Military and Civic Inaugural Pageant Coming as Climax to Ceremonies is More Than Five Hours Passing in Review
---New President is Guest of Former Classmates at Dinner Given Him at Night---Will Begin Work in Earnest Today.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 4.—Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey was inaugurated today as president of the United States; Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, vice-president.

Under the dome of the nation's capital in the presence of a great concourse of his fellow citizens, the new president raised a hand toward a prophetic sun that burst through dissolving clouds and pronounced the occasion a day of dedication; not of triumph.

It was an intensely human, precedent breaking inauguration. With members of his chosen cabinet surrounding him, the justices of the supreme court before him, his wife and daughters joyous on platform below and William Howard Taft, ex-president of the nation at his side, the new president called upon all "honest, patriotic, forward-looking men" to aid him, extending the promise that he would not fail them in the guidance of their government.

The retiring president, while the crowd was cheering, clasped his hand and enlisted as a patriotic servant in the ranks of private citizenship.

Wishes President Success.

"Mr. President," said Mr. Taft, his face beaming with a broadening smile, "I wish you a successful administration and the carrying out of your aims. We will all be behind you."

"Thank you," said President Wilson, and he turned to shake the hand of his secretary of state, William Jennings Bryan.

There they stood—Taft, standard bearer of a vanquished party after sixteen years of power; Bryan, persistent plodder of Progressive Democracy, thrice defeated, accepting a commission from a new chief executive, and Wilson, the man of the hour, victorious, mustering, as he expressed it, "not the forces of party, but the forces of humanity."

The military and civic pageant that followed this climax of the historic day was more than five hours passing in review. Leaving Capitol hill at 2 o'clock it extended into the night.

President Wilson stood for more than an hour under the glare of myriads of brilliant electric lights as he greeted thousands in the long line, among them the host of Princeton students, who, as they passed before him, shouted a hearty greeting that he never can forget.

Ceremonies in Senate Chamber.

Not long after the boys from Old Nassau had passed he turned and entered the white house. Ceremonies in the senate chamber which marked the dying of the sixty-second and the vitalizing of the new sixty-third congress, embracing the inauguration of Vice-president Marshall and the swearing in of the senators-elect, were never more impressive. Though delayed somewhat by the course of legislation, necessitating turning back half an hour the hands of the clock, the interest was tense.

The procession into the chamber of the members of the house of representatives, ambassadors and ministers of foreign countries in all their brilliant regalia, the chief justice and justices of the supreme court in their somber robes, the vice-president-elect, President Taft and the president-elect, side by side, escorted by the members of the congressional inaugural committee, was an awe-inspiring spectacle.

Marshall Takes Oath.

When all had taken their places and the members of the new cabinet had been seated in the rear of the room, Mr. Marshall took the oath of office, administered by senator Gallinger at exactly 12:34 o'clock. He then delivered his inaugural address.

Then began the procession from the senate wing to the great amphitheater at the east front of the capitol. After Chief Justice White followed by the justices of the supreme court had entered the inaugural stand, President Taft and President-elect Wilson appeared in the doorway of the capitol. Their presence was the signal for prolonged cheers from the crowd. Reaching the stand the president-elect stood for several moments with head bowed, acknowledging the plaudits of the crowd.

Then with the president, the chosen members of his cabinet, the vice-president-elect, Speaker Clark and the justices, he seated himself to await the solemn ceremony.

Meanwhile Mrs. Wilson, the Misses Margaret, Eleanor and Jessie Wilson, Mrs. Marshall, and the Wilson family party reached the front of the platform and took seats adjoining the inaugural rostrum. As the gay crowd cheered Mrs. Wilson was carried away by enthusiasm. She ran to the front rail and waved to the throngs. Her daughters followed, so did Mrs. Marshall.

Ladies Stand in Chairs.

Before the ceremonies began, Miss Margaret Wilson stood up in her chair to view the scene to better advantage.

"Isn't it beautiful," said Miss Wilson, as they viewed the gay crowd, the West Point cadets and naval cadets from Annapolis, drawn up in review before her.

Miss Eleanor seized another chair and standing beside her sister watched the passing show.

Then Mrs. Marshall stood in her chair, waiting to the vice-president. Promptly at 1:35, when Chief Justice White rose to administer the oath and Woodrow Wilson stood with right hand upraised to heaven, the most human touch in the picture of the day asserted itself. The first lady of the land could not see well from her seat. As spryly as a school girl, Mrs. Wilson moved her chair to the side of the rostrum and climbed upon it with the assistance of Lieut. Rogers, the president's naval aide. Grasping the railing she stood there gazing at the president as he kissed the bible and she remained standing until his address was concluded. The Misses Margaret and Eleanor joined her but Miss Jessie remained sitting throughout the address.

Kisses Open Bible.

When the new president swore to uphold and defend the constitution he stooped and kissed the open bible, held in the hands of James B. Maher, deputy clerk of the supreme court.

His lips touched the page, opened at random, and fell upon 119th psalm, 43 and 48 verses inclusive. The verses beginning with the forty-first, are these:

"Let Thy mercies come also unto me, oh Lord, even Thy salvation, according to Thy word."

"So shall I have wherewith to answer Him that reproacheth me, for I trust in Thy word."

"And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth; for I have hoped in Thy judgments."

"So shall I keep Thy law continually forever and forever."

"And I will walk at liberty, for I seek Thy precepts."

"I will speak of Thy testimonies also before kings and will not be ashamed."

"And I will delight myself in Thy commandments which I have loved."

"My hands also will I lift up unto Thy commandments which I have loved, and I will meditate in Thy statutes."

President Frequently Cheered.

Throughout his address President Wilson was cheered frequently by the people immediately in front of the stand who could hear him. The applause was particularly emphatic when President Wilson declared:

"The scales of heedlessness have fallen from our eyes. We have made up our minds to square every process of our national life again with the standards we so proudly set up at the beginning and have always carried at our hearts. Our work is a work of restoration."

When congratulations on his address were over, the justices of the supreme court, members of the retiring and incoming cabinets, and others, shook the hand of the chief executive and he was ushered to the carriage in front of the stand.

Mr. Taft followed him into the carriage. His smile had not worn off, and it radiated over the crowd as the new president doffed his hat to the populace when the procession started.

Crowd Was Demonstrative.

There was hardly a minute during the new president's ride from the capitol to the white house that he did not hear a constantly rising chorus of cheers. As his carriage passed up Pennsylvania avenue and each section of the densely crowded thoroughfare spied the visage of the new president the outbursts seemed to increase in volume and enthusiasm. The mass of humanity within seeing distance of the presidential carriage could not be pictured by estimates, for there was hardly space on the avenue or its tributary streets which was not filled. The buildings along the way seemed fairly hidden by their human coverings and the specially built street stands were crowded to overflowing. Amid it all was a profusion of decoration, varicolored and elaborate so that the buildings along the way were fairly hidden behind it all.

President Wilson doffed his hat continuously in recognition of prolonged ovations.

The ride from the white house to the capitol was brief but spectacular. The Essex troop of New Jersey led the presidential carriage while the Culver cadet troop of Indiana escorted Mr. Marshall. While the crowds were not as demonstrative on this occasion as they were on the return journey from the capitol to the white house there was a cheering tribute all along the line.

It was nearly three o'clock before President Wilson returned to the white house where he partook of a buffet luncheon with 250 invited guests, including members of the new cabinet and official folk generally.

Parade Delighted Wilson's Family.

The inaugural parade itself was a delight to the new president, he said afterwards, but it was an extraordinary physical strain. President Wilson and Vice-President Marshall stood side by side for nearly five hours. Members of their families sat behind them, all intensely interested in the various divisions of the military and civic organizations as they filed by.

State pride brought forth a bow of friendly recognition when the New Jersey organizations came by and Mrs. Wilson, who is a native of Georgia, stood waving her handkerchief as the cadets of the Georgia military academy passed the stand.

The three Wilson girls, with the President and Mrs. Wilson, did not conceal their enthusiasm when the Princeton students, more than 1,000 of them, passed the presidential reviewing stand. The Princeton "locomotive" cheer burst forth, and Mr. Wilson waved his appreciation.

The various governors were cheered as they passed. Governor Sulzer of New York came riding by bowing on his horse and tipping his hat from side in appreciation of the applause. Governor Mann of Virginia was the recipient of a big ovation too.

The seats immediately behind the president, vice-president and their families were occupied by many people who are to be conspicuous in the new administration. William Jennings Bryan, the new secretary of state and Mrs. Bryan were in the center of the new cabinet group. Senators and congressmen stopped to chat in moving to and fro in the stands. National committeemen, campaign clubmen and a host of government officials were there, and during the long parade they visited each other frequently chatting joyously.

Associate Justice Mahlon Pitney and Cyrus H. McCormick of Chicago, both of them classmates of Mr. Wilson at the University of Pennsylvania, were in the midst of a group of the president's college chums.

TWO APPROPRIATION BILLS NOT PASSED

INDIAN AND SUNDRY CIVIL EXPENSE
BILLS FAIL OF PASSAGE

Senator Fall of New Mexico Held Floor Through Closing Hours of Session and Talked Indian Appropriation Bill to Death.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 4.—Two of the great annual appropriation bills necessary to the maintenance of the federal government failed of passage today, when the 62nd congress wound up its affairs.

Senator Fall of New Mexico, holding the floor through the closing hours of the session, talked the Indian appropriation bill to death, with its $12,000,000 for the support of the Indian service, while President Taft wrote his veto on the $115,000,000 bill to take care of the "sundry civil expenses" of the government.

The house re-passed the sundry civil bill over the veto but when it reached the senate, Senator Poinsett objected to an appropriation for the Washington police force unless an investigation had been made of the riotous scenes attending the suffrage parade Monday, and the senate did not get a vote on the bill. Mr. Taft vetoed the sundry civil bill because of its provisions exempting labor unions and farmers' organizations from prosecution under the anti-trust law. Most of the appropriation would not take effect until July 1, however, and the new congress will be able to prepare appropriation measures by that time. The provision to which Mr. Taft objected provided that no funds could be spent in prosecution of organizations or individuals for "entering into any combination of agreement having in view the increasing of wages, shortening of hours or bettering the conditions of labor," or for the prosecution of producers of farm products and associations of farmers who co-operate and organize to obtain and maintain a fair and reasonable price for their products.

This he declared was "class legislation of the most vicious sort," and that it would undoubtedly be held unconstitutional by the courts. Referring to the farmers' clause President Taft said:

"At a time when there is widespread complaint of the high cost of living, it certainly would be anomalous to put on the statute books of the United States an act in effect preventing the prosecution of combinations of producers of farm products for the purpose of artificially controlling prices."

The special session of the senate, which Vice-President Marshall called to order today, immediately after the 62nd congress adjourned, will assemble again at noon tomorrow to receive and act upon President Wilson's cabinet appointments.

Would Withdraw Signature.

Despite the fact that he signed the public buildings bill today, President Taft sent to congress with a memorandum stating that he would like to have withheld his signature. Because of many projects in it he held to be meritorious he added, he had decided to approve it.

"There are in this bill's items aggregating perhaps half a million dollars that ought not to be in authorizing the construction of public buildings in towns too small to justify them," said the president and "on that ground for the purpose of giving emphasis to my views on the subject I would like to withhold signature from the bill, but the bill contains authorization for improvements so important in the developments—and I say the unduly delayed development—of the city of Washington, that I cannot bring myself to defeat such worthy projects."

"The bill in itself contains certain restrictions upon future appropriations of a similar kind that may tend to prevent the vicious 'work barrel' feature of bills of this character."

Taft Explains Views.

Although President Taft exercised the pocket veto in expressing disapproval of the seamen's servitude bill he left with congress a short memorandum giving his views of the measure. The memorandum said:

"This bill is so important and conflicts in its operation with the treaty obligations of the United States and in its possible friction with the commerce of foreign countries that in the short time that I have had since it has been presented to me, I do not feel justified in assuming the responsibility of allowing it to become a law."

The bill was designed to improve conditions of labor and living in the merchant marine and to abolish involuntary servitude of seamen.

In Hands of Democracy.

Control of congress in both branches today passed into the hands of Democracy. Tomorrow the Democratic members of the senate will assemble in separate caucuses to plan the organization of the two houses and to map out the policy of the extra session that is to assemble on President Wilson's call on April 1st.

Democrats tonight faced the caucus with expectation of a struggle of some moment over the control of the senate. The Progressive Democratic members were apparently in control so far as the selection of a senate leader was concerned, but the plans to change seniority rules in the filling of committees on which the newer senators demanded full representation threatened to embroil the Democrats in a hard fight.

The house Democratic leaders were prepared to take in tomorrow's session.

Evening at White House.

The Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall spent the evening with the Wilson family watching the fireworks from the white house portico. Those who joined the party were Captain Bill McDonald, the president's body guard during the campaign. As usual, the captain wore his somber and soft flannel shirt.

At 10:45 o'clock the Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall returned to their hotel and retired.

May Be Solitor General.

It was said tonight that Louis D. Brandeis, of Boston, who was insistently mentioned as a cabinet possibility would be offered and probably would accept the post of solicitor general. According to the story, Mr. Brandeis was to have been appointed secretary of commerce but withdrew his name before the slate was finally completed.

SECOND SKIRMISH WITH MEXICANS

Ninth Cavalry Troops and Mexican Federals Exchange Fire

CHICAGO, ARIZ., MARCH 4.—A second skirmish occurred at 10 o'clock today between the 9th cavalry troops and Mexican federal soldiers from Agua Prieta, across the international border one and one half miles southeast of Douglas. Mexicans to the number of fifty fired on the border patrol at a distance of 350 yards.

In answer to a hurry call troops E and F and a machine gun platoon of the 9th cavalry were rushed to the place where the Mexicans had fired on the patrol squad. A rapid firer was put in immediate operation in addition to a hot rifle fire.

The Mexicans returned the fire with spirit, but soon retreated to a line of trenches dug during the Madero revolution. When they reached the trenches, the firing ceased. Whether any Mexicans were killed or wounded is not known. None of the American troops were hit.

Colonel Guilfoyle took personal command of the troops at the scene of today's fighting, which is a repetition of the battle of Sunday when Mexican federals and United States troops fought for a half hour over the international line. There has been no further firing on the border near here since this morning. The ninth cavalry patrol has been increased to full force including the machine guns, stretching from Douglas to Forrest station.

There is much excitement here. The city authorities consider establishment of a special guard. There is an unusual number of Mexicans in the American town and much excitement among them. The rebel messenger arrested Sunday by United States troops was released today. Messages he carried have been sent to Washington.

"I have no unfriendly feeling toward the United States and the shooting by my men across the border was without authority," declared General Ojeda to day. "I am sure the American troops misapprehended the situation," continued the Mexican officer, "would execute any man under my control for firing a shot into the United States. The situation is unfortunate, I deplore it, and shall bring all possible means to bear to bring the guilty ones to justice."

"My soldiers would not fire a shot across the line unless fired upon," asserted Col. Guilfoyle. "I know they have not. I deplore the matter as much as anyone could, but we will return the fire and shoot to kill as long as the patrol is interfered with. It is up to the other side to stop it."

Maderistas numbering 300 are stationed tonight so as to oppose the ex-insurgents reported to be moving to reinforce the federal garrison at Agua Prieta. The mobilization of Maderista rebels at Colonel Morelos the American Mormon settlement continued to day. It is reported there are nearly 1,000 men already congregated there.

Many refugees arrived here today from Nacoarzi, where an armistice between the new rebels and federals expires tomorrow.

Private despatches received to day say that refugees are fleeing from Hermosillo to the state capital, to Nogales below which point rebels cut the railroad.

General Gil a Huerta commander to day captured 300 rifles and 50,000 rounds of ammunition from state troops who were marching to Alamos.

Telegraphs Peace Terms.

Mexico City, March 4.—Claiming to have 11,000 men under his command, Venustiano Carranza, the rebel governor of Coahuila, has telegraphed to the American ambassador the terms on which he says he will restore peace.

Carranza demands that President Huerta resign and that Senor Lascruain, the former minister of foreign relations, succeed him, and also that General Felix Diaz leave the country on the first steamer.

Ambassador Wilson submitted the message to President Huerta, who laughed, saying that Carranza had fewer than 2,000 men and was practically surrounded in the hills.

The proposals made by Jose Cordova, representing General Orozco, were discussed at a cabinet meeting tonight, but no decision was reached. It was announced, however, that it had been decided that the government should make no payment to the rebels except in the way of wages, should they enter the army. The government believes Orozco will not insist upon representation in the cabinet.

CASE MAY NOT BE COMPROMISED

OLEOMARGARINE CASE WILL BE INVESTIGATED

Grand Jury Will Be Instructed to Disregard Any Compromise Made at Washington in Alleged Fraud.

CHICAGO, MARCH 4.—The oleomargarine cases compromised at Washington today are distinct from the government's suit against John F. Jelke of this city, to obtain dismissal of which President Taft was recently visited, unsuccessfully, by former Mayor Busse, of Chicago, and Jelke. The latter is charged with conspiracy to defraud the government. The case will probably come to trial within a month.

United States District Judge K. M. Landis, who will empanel a regular grand jury here tomorrow, declined to affirm or deny a report that the grand jury would investigate the whole oleomargarine subject. It was rumored that an attempt might be made to determine whether the internal revenue department has legal power to compromise a case where the government is alleged to have been defrauded.

The exact amount of the compromise is $101,000. The total amount of the alleged frauds was $1,246,628.62. The Chicago firms fined and the amounts they will pay follow:

Armour & Co. $10,000
William J. Moxley Co. 20,000
G. H. Hammond Co. 20,000
United States Butterine Co. 6,000
Friedman Manufacturing Co. 7,500

Other concerns and the amounts they paid are The Capital City dairy, $22,000; Blanton Manufacturing Co., $400, and the Ohio Butterine Co., $19,000.

It was reported tonight that the grand jury would be instructed absolutely to disregard any compromise in the alleged fraud. Some time ago Judge Landis, in announcing his position in the oleomargarine situation, designated the efforts to obtain immunity as constituting an attempt to impede justice almost compound a felony and to lower the dignity of the courts.

Contentions are made on the other hand that the compromise is final and that criminal prosecution is barred, since the legal power to compromise lies in the power of the secretary of the treasury.

LITTLE CHANGE IN BALKAN SITUATION

Turkey Not Believed to Have Decided to Cede Adrianople—Montenegrins Still Claim Scutari.

London, March 4.—There is practically no change in the Balkan situation. The grand vizier, Mahmoud Schekef Pasha, in an interview at Constantinople, is quoted as saying the pourparloirs were still in progress but that Turkey had not actually decided to cede Adrianople and would not necessarily be bound by the decisions of the powers. A Belgrade despatch says that Montenegro has been given assurance that if Scutari capitulates by the date of Romoff centenary, March 8th, the powers will cede Scutari to Montenegro. King Nicholas today reiterated to war correspondents at Cetinje that Montenegro will never abandon her claim to Scutari.

Peace Likely Soon.

The Daily Telegraph claims to have learned from well informed sources that Turkey is willing to cede Adrianople, Scutari and Janina and that peace is likely to be concluded at an early date on the basis frontier line embracing Enos, Maritza, Ergeno, and Istranda.

Turkey, however, will decline to cede the Gallipoli peninsula or pay an indemnity.

MERCHANTS TO TESTIFY.

Chicago, March 4.—Five widely known merchants, James Simpson, George Lytton, Roy M. Shayne, Edwin F. Mandel and Edward J. Lehmann, were subpoenaed today to testify before the state senate vice-commission which is investigating, among other things, wages paid girls in large downtown stores. It is said the findings of several small order houses will be subpoenaed within the next few days.

EMILIO MA. ERO IN TEXAS.

San Antonio, Tex., March 4.—Emilio and Roal Madero, brothers of the late president of Mexico who were reported to have been killed by federal troops in Soaballa, Mex., reached Marathon, Texas late today, and will be in San Antonio tomorrow.

Mr. Taft was accompanied by Mrs. Taft, Miss Taft and Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Hilles.

REFUSED TO LAUGH.

A Joke on Himself That Mark Twain Failed to Enjoy.

When Mark Twain was a resident of Hartford, Conn., he once called at the office of Dr. Swan, a local specialist of considerable repute, to consult him regarding a trivial ailment.

The physician was inclined to be rather arbitrary in his charges, was very independent and disliked exceedingly to be consulted in regard to minor ailments. In this instance he named a fee for his services that the economically minded Clemens thought excessive.

After a little argument Mr. Clemens declared that he would not pay any such price as the physician asked, and rose to leave. Just as he turned his back on Dr. Swan a voice said distinctly:

"Go along home, you old fool, you!" Instantly Mark Twain wheeled around, angry through and through. "What's that, sir?" he roared at the doctor. "What's that you say?"

With a smile that was cloying in its sweetness Dr. Swan pointed to a cage in the corner where his parrot was swinging and chuckling with birdish glee, and explained:

"That is the gentleman who spoke to you, sir." Somehow the explanation did not seem to reduce Mr. Clemens' anger very much, and he never entirely believed in Dr. Swan's innocence.—New York American.

THE FLY'S BALANCERS.

Without These Organs the Insect Would Tumble to the Ground.

The insects of the Diptera order, to which the common housefly belongs, have, as a rule, one pair of wings and rudimentary remnants of another pair in the form of a club shaped organ on either side of the thorax behind the wings. These organs are called "balancers" and, as experiments have shown, are indispensable in the maintenance of equilibrium.

A fly from which they have been removed cannot direct its flight, and if it tries to fly from the edge of a table will immediately take a downward course, dropping to the floor on its head about three feet away and falling over on its back. Similarly, if it tries to fly from the floor after succeeding in getting on its feet again it will rise in the air two or three inches and then again tumble, striking its head and turning over on its back as before, but only about four inches from its starting point. Horizontal and ascending flight becomes absolutely impossible.

The similarity between these artificially produced insect mishaps and many an aeroplane accident is striking, and a study of why the removal of the fly's balancers causes it to upset may go a long way toward solving the problem in aeroplane construction.—Westminster Gazette.

Beware of Cousins!

Cousins are not as simple as they seem. The very fact of being a cousin, or having a cousin, is complicated. The laissez faire of cousinship is both eluding and deluding. Cousins will be cousins, even if you did not choose them. They can borrow money from you, visit you without being asked, tell people they belong to your family, contest your will, even fall in love with you—and a cousin once removed is twice as apt to. Never completely trust a cousin. Never depend on his not doing any of these things. Never take him for granted. The "cousinly kiss" may or may not mean what it means. And cousins always do kiss. It's part of being cousins.

(Not that cousins need necessarily prove perilous. Once in a blue moon they invite you to Europe or leave you money, but that almost always takes an aunt or an uncle).—Atlantic.

Cod Liver Oil From Sharks.

Shark spearing is a profitable industry in Malaysia, though attended by an element of danger and no little excitement. The chief value of the fish is its liver, which yields an oil that is refined in Europe and sold as cod liver oil. In October the ocean sharks come into the lagoon, between the barrier reef and the atolls, to pair. At this time they can be speared in large numbers by people skilled in catching them. There are several species of these sharks, and they ordinarily run from seven to fifteen feet in length. The liver of a shark of this size gives about five gallons of oil. The sharks are found in pairs, and the harpooners try to kill the male first, for they are then able to spear the female also, as it does not desert its mate.

Not a Total Wreck.

"What have you done with your play?" "It didn't go as a farce, so I had some music composed and tried it as an opera, but it fell flat. Then I boiled it down into a vaudeville sketch, but nobody would touch it." "Too bad. A total loss, eh?" "Not total. There's one good joke in it. I can sell that for 50 cents."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Man's Big Mistake.

According to a German biologist, man made a mistake when centuries ago he changed himself from a quadruped to a biped, the contention being that many present day ills are due to carrying the spine in an upright position when it was intended to be carried horizontally.

SOCIAL EVENTS

The first regular meeting of the Caritas lodge girls was held Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Gertrude Manchester, 300 North East street. The young ladies did embroidery work and also had a good time socially, music being part of the evening's program, which was followed by refreshments. The next meeting will be held with Miss Beale Hadden on Caldwell street.

The East Side Tuesday club met yesterday with Mrs. Alex Campbell, 350 West College street. Mrs. J. B. Williamson gave a book review of "America, the World's Melting Pot," with views which proved most interesting and profitable. Miss Clara Ranson also gave a musical number. A social hour followed and refreshments were served. At the next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. W. S. Badger, a musical program will be given and each member will be privileged to take a guest.

One of the most pleasing events of Alderim Temple No. 62, D. O. K. K., was the dance and social given Tuesday night, which was attended by over two hundred. The program, over which Ralph I. Dunlap presided, opened with a violin solo by Mary Winchester, with Mrs. E. C. Carpenter as accompanist.

Selection—Mrs. Randall's orchestra.

Reading, "Joining the Lodge"—An original poem by Mrs. T. A. Ehrey.

Piano solo—Miss Edna Sheppard. The next number was an exhibition by the drill team in full uniform with A. J. McCarty as captain. After the program a social time was enjoyed, dancing being the main diversion, with music furnished by Mrs. Randall's orchestra.

A merry crowd of thirty one gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dewees, seven miles northwest of Jacksonville Tuesday evening to celebrate the 23rd birthday of their twin daughters, Pearl and Ruby. The neighbors and friends brought along oysters with all the delicious trimmings and the meal as well as the entire evening was enjoyed. Music and games furnished diversions for the guests. There were two beautiful birthday cakes, one which contained a dime that was secured by Miss Pearl Dewees, a darning needle went to Miss Muriel Stanley and the ring to Samuel Wood. Many years of happiness and every good wish were extended the young ladies at the hour of parting.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pickup of 472 South Main street, celebrated their crystal wedding anniversary Tuesday evening at their home, quite a number of friends being present. A very delightful evening was spent with games and music and Mr. and Mrs. Pickup were the recipients of quite a number of presents. During the hours substantial refreshments were served. Rev. and Mrs. Alkire kept open house last night to the young and middle aged married people. There were sixty guests present and the evening was spent in games and guessing contests. Refreshments were served and the latter part of the evening was spent in singing religious songs and getting better acquainted. The guests voted Rev. and Mrs. Alkire excellent host and hostess.

TOOK LICENSE TO MEREDOSIA.

H. H. Hart county clerk went to Meredosia Tuesday afternoon with a marriage license for Henry Saylor and Miss Deppie. The groom to be is twenty years old and so could not secure a license without the consent of his proper guardian who was unable to visit the court house on account of sickness. In order to get the legal requirements straightened out arrangements were made with County Clerk Bioruff to send a deputy with the necessary paper and prepared to take the affidavit required by law.

Misses Margaret Wolfe and Beulah Hart have gone to Murrayville for a visit with relatives.

BACK TO THE LAND
MR. HEINL'S THEME

DISCUSSED QUESTION AT LIBRARY FROM CITY STAND-POINT.

Helpful Ideas Were Suggested For Beautifying Lawns and Gardens —Necessity for Civic Improvement Movement Shown.

"Back to the Land on a Town Lot" the theme of the address given Tuesday evening at the library by Frank J. Heinl was one of the most practical and best attended of the weekly library series. The beautifying of the home, the best way to make gardens and lawns, the necessity of a movement for civic improvement, and the school as a help in the back to the land idea were among the themes discussed by Mr. Heinl in an interesting and concise manner. The lecture was illustrated by appropriate slides obtained from the American Civic association, an organization with headquarters at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania whose purpose is to push the propaganda for more beautiful cities. The slides were shown through the kindness of Dr. C. E. Black, assisted by W. H. P. Huber. The assembly room was completely filled by an interested audience.

Advice to Gardeners.

In giving advice to gardeners Mr. Heinl said to let the fellow do some experimenting with new and strange varieties. Don't be misled by pictures in the seed catalogs showing monstrous yields of sweet corn and vegetables several times natural size. It might be a good thing in fact to have a pure food law for seed catalogs. Insist on standard kinds, and do not depend too much on dwarf varieties. The best of seed, however, will do little unless properly planted. See that the ground is sufficiently dry, and remember that the soil should be well stirred. For advice as to exact directions for planting consult the farmers bulletins of which the library has a very complete supply. Country Life in America contains much good advice. Good level cultivation is much to be preferred to the use of raised beds. Hills and raised beds dry out too quickly. Remember to fertilize well, using barn yard litter or a good grade of commercial fertilizer. For cultivation on small plots, a very fine thing to use is the wheel hoe. It's death to weeds and is handy to use.

Beautiful Lawns.

Among the most attractive features of a place is a beautiful lawn. Do not be discouraged though if you don't get one on the first trial, as the smooth green lawns of old England are the work of centuries. In preparing the land keep the richest soil on top. Use well rotted barn yard manure for fertilizer, taking care that it is not full of grass or weed seed. A lawn should be kept well rolled. The winter weather has a tendency to break up the ground making it desirable to roll as early in the spring as practicable. Be sure to use good seed.

Kentucky blue grass mixed with a little white clover is much better than the various commercial lawn grass mixtures which sometimes contain seeds of wild grasses and noxious weeds. A lawn may be built up by sodding but this method is less satisfactory and more expensive. Lawns should be planted late in the fall or in the early spring.

Landscape Gardening.

Simplicity should be the keynote in landscape gardening for a small lot. Straight walks are preferable to curved ones. Avoid terraces and do not get the concrete craze. Aim at a symmetrical arrangement of flower beds and shrubs rather than showy and other loud effects. Have as little front yard as possible, only enough to be in keeping with the other houses along your street. Your back yard with a summer house, cozy rustic seats, and well laid garden walks should be your main concern and chief comfort. You can secure privacy by the use of vines properly trained and hedges. Hedges for a small place however are not usually advisable as they take up a good deal of room and are hard to maintain. Pivert has been used much for hedges although it is liable to die suddenly when apparently in a flourishing condition. The best all round shrub for hedge and other use is the Japanese barberry. It is quick growing, hardy and makes a pretty winter effect with its numerous bright red berries. Evergreens can often be used to good effect, bearing in mind always that unless for hedge purposes it should be trimmed. When planting trees dig a good sized hole and plant the tree a little deeper than it was originally. Prune away superfluous branches, taking care not to prune slow-growing kinds too much.

Don't Forget the Birds.

The greatest friend the man has who is interested in making his place useful and beautiful are our common birds. The thrush, robin, oriole and cat bird all eat their share of insects. If it were not for the birds most crops could not be raised. Some birds are enemies of special insects, as for example the common rain crow whose special prey is the downy caterpillar. The English sparrow alone cannot be classed as a useful bird although it does destroy the locust.

School Gardens.

A number of slides were shown showing activities of school children in vegetable and landscape gardening. Philadelphia and other large cities are showing the young people how to cover up walls and fences by climbing vines and how to beautify unsightly spots with vines and shrubs. In some localities, large tracts of vacant land are leased by the school authorities as practical workshops for teaching agriculture and horticulture.

Civic Improvement.

The pioneers of Jacksonville went to the land on their own towns, a thing we must continue to do if this is to remain a beautiful city. Too often we have overlooked our possibilities. We forget that a city should be clean and comfortable. We should see to it that our streets and alleys are kept in good order and that our beautiful trees are replaced as they die out. Telephone wires are dangerous and unsightly and should be piped underground. The corporations controlling them should be allowed a reasonable time and compelled to conduit all wires as is beginning to be done in some of the larger cities. In short we should aim at a more beautiful, cleaner, more home-like Jacksonville.

MORE LIGHT NEEDED.

The people of the city will soon be called on to vote on the question of authorizing the commissioners of the city to issue bonds to the amount of $50,000, bearing 4 1/2 per cent interest, and to run not to exceed twenty years from the date of issuance.

There is no division of sentiment regarding the fact that our present municipal light plant is a bit antiquated, that it is in many respects a back number. Yet it has done good work, served its purpose well. Henry Schofield, mayor of the city at the time the present system was pushed through the council and ordered built, was for a time much criticised for its inauguration, but at that date the entire outfit cost only a little less than $20,000.

The greatest question to be considered at the present by the voter is as to the proposed cost of the improvement. The Journal is disposed to favor any scheme of public improvement that is within reason. Jacksonville needs more light.

The present plant is inadequate incapable of furnishing sufficient power. The lamps are old and out-of-date. A well lighted city is a well policed city. We now pay a large amount of cash to the Jacksonville Railway Co. for light at Nichols park and in many of the municipal buildings. We are supposed to have a municipal electric lighting plant, that should be made of sufficient capacity to do all the work of the city. Careful plans and estimates of the increase needed to cover all departments of the city and school buildings and of lighting all streets and thoroughfares, we presume have been made. The cost of lighting the school buildings should be taken from the school funds, and a sinking fund established to cover wear and tear and replacement.

Build reasonably for the future—but not too far ahead, not at too great cost. Bonds must be paid—whether one year or twenty years from date. Interest charges must be met annually—and they never rest. Interest and "wear and tear" depreciation of the machinery of a plant and taxes are first items in finding the cost of a product. Then labor and the thousand and one expenses that must be met before you reach a point showing actual cost, or a possible saving or profit.

But then, think what a delight it would be to have a string of handsome boulevard lights on both sides of East and West State streets and North and South Main streets, burning all night, some of the night workers and people who happen to be out late would not be forced to carry lanterns and take to the middle of the roads as they do now. Ours is a peaceful, quiet city. There has been little of crime on the streets of late, but plenty of light would tend to make our streets safer, and pedestrians would feel much more secure.

We need more light, however, on the plans of the commissioners. What do they propose in the way of improvement, aside from the habilitation of the present plant?

If, as some claim there is nothing left of the present plant but a junk heap, it is easy to figure the depreciation. The contract for the original outfit was let in 1895—about 18 years ago—for $20,000. A great deal of money has been used at different times in that 18 years for upkeep, and in replacing worn and broken parts of the machinery, how much it would be impossible to estimate accurately at the present time, but possibly an additional $10,000 in that time.

There is no doubt we do need a new plant. Whether there is any salvage in the old is uncertain. The only way the city can build anew is to issue bonds to meet the cost of the improvement. We desire light for our streets and parks and municipal buildings and we would respectfully suggest that the members of the city commission give us more light regarding their plans and the amount of the actual cost of the proposed improvement. Give us the plans and specifications, showing every detail, so far as is possible, even to the cost of issuing the bonds, then our people can decide more intelligently as to their vote.

All, or nearly all, are agreed that we need more light.

WAS SHOT IN LEG WHILE ATTENDING A CHARIVARI

Clyde Black Receives Injury While Company of Young Folks Were Making Merry at Newlyweds' Home.

Clyde Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Black, who reside north of the city, was accidentally shot in the leg Monday night while participating in a charivari at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Mason. A number of the neighbor boys went to the Mason residence and during the evening Edgar Alexander showed a 22-calibre revolver, which he had used to make a noise. He was warned by several to keep the gun in his pocket but he declared it was harmless, as he had emptied every cartridge. While he was snapping the trigger, the gun went off and the ball lodged in young Black's left leg, below the knee.

The young man was brought to Passavant hospital, where an X-ray picture was taken of the wound and the ball located, which was extricated. The bullet had hit the bone and slid around it. No serious results are anticipated. Mr. Alexander, who caused the accident, regrets very much his carelessness.

Red Tape in Germany.

The following is an illustration of the beauties of bureaucratic administration in Germany:

It appears that in the postoffice department at Berlin, if a clerk wishes a new lead pencil, he must turn in to the proper authority the stump of the one that has become too short for further use. In one case a clerk received his new pencil without returning the end of the old one, and before this error was discovered this clerk had been transferred to another office. Shortly after the assumption of his duties at his new post this clerk received an official intimation that he had neglected to turn in his pencil end. By this time, however, the end had disappeared. In order to avoid official reprimand, the resourceful clerk purchased a new pencil, cut off a piece about the length of the missing end and dispatched it to the stationery department. Everybody was accordingly satisfied.—Harper's Weekly.

Dangerous Precedent.

The best case which I have seen of law versus justice and common sense is one which Montaigne relates as having happened in his own day. Some men were condemned to death for murder. The judges were then informed by the officers of an inferior court that certain persons in their custody had confessed themselves guilty of the murder in question and had told so circumstantially a tale that the fact was placed beyond all doubt. Nevertheless it was deemed so bad a precedent to revoke a sentence and show that the law could not see that the innocent men were delivered over to execution.—London.

It is thought that this is the first movement of the government to end the war by beginning operations against Carranza.

In a battle between federals and Carranzistas at Cedral, state of San Luis Potosi, yesterday, seventeen rebels were killed and many wounded. The federals lost three men killed and five wounded. Twelve rebels were taken prisoners. The rebels were led by Miguel Acosta.

The Carranzistas apparently are extending their operations. Reports received today say that these rebels have burned the bridges on the National railway between Monterey and Laredo.

As was expected a delicate turn in the negotiations between the government and the rebels developed today, when Jose Cordova, the official representative of Pascual Orozco, Jr., amplified the original demands with reference to a peace settlement. He asked the government for 2,500,000 pesos indemnity for Orozco and his army, for time for damage sustained during the revolution against Madero. He also demanded in behalf of Orozco that two-thirds at least of his army be accepted as irregulars and that Orozco be named as commander-in-chief in the state of Chihuahua.

General Inez Salazar, reported to be in conference with Emilio Vasquez Gomez, at Patomas, has indicated that he will not countenance the terms arranged through Cordova. Salazar claims that he is entitled to recognition as the real chief of the northern rebels and has more men under his command than Orozco. He declares that Orozco has not been in control at any time during the last four months.

Burn Railway Bridges.

Laredo, Tex., March 4.—Followers of Venustiano Carranza burned four bridges along the line of the National railways of Mexico, today, cutting wires and captured three small towns, Candela, in Coahuila, and Villadma and Bustamante in Nuevo Leon. The band is composed of 600 men and is under the leadership of Albert Guajardo.

Troops Leaving Juarez.

El Paso, Tex., March 4.—Nearly all regular federal troops are moving out of Juarez. The movement is unexplained.

Loading on Trains of the Mexican Central Railway tonight are all the artillery in the Juarez Garrison.

Careful With Their Lemons.

"In English Inns," said a man who had just returned from a long coaching trip in England, "they do not use lemons in our haphazard fashion. They make the use of one more or less of a solemn rite. I remember asking for a 'horse's neck' in a little inn in the north country. The landlord had never heard of the drink, and I explained to him that it was ginger ale with a lemon peel in it. He went back to the bar and returned presently with an empty tray. 'I'm very sorry, sir,' he said, 'but we haven't got a lemon open just now.'"—New York Tribune.

His Disease.

When Lord Chancellor Campbell, then plain Campbell, married Miss Scarlett and departed on his wedding trip, Justice Abbott observed when a cause was called on in the bench: "I thought, Mr. Brougham, that Mr. Campbell was in this case."

Would Be Terrible.

"The doctors are going to operate on her."

"What's wrong?"

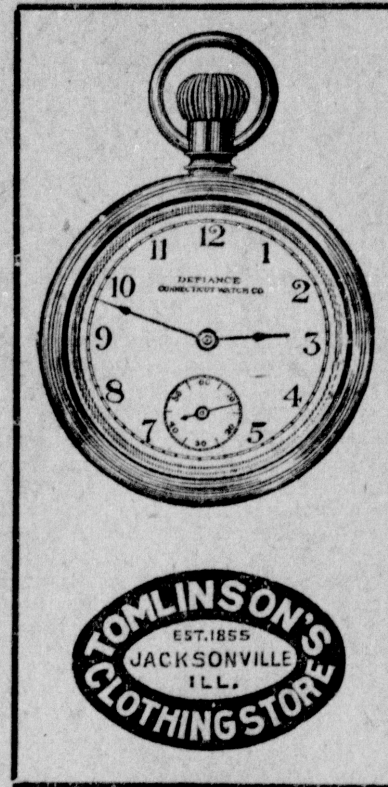

"Something about the coat of her stomach, I understand."

"I hope they don't find its out of style. She'd never get over that."—Kansas City Journal.

"Come ye out from among them and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch no unclean thing."

The above is the Golden Text for next Sabbath's lesson, and next Sabbath's lesson is the temperance lesson.

If the wicked cities of the present day were destroyed we would consider it calamity; and yet, we go on and on, destroying one individual after another, and do not think much about it. The whole was shocked at the Chicago fire, the Galveston flood, the San Francisco earthquake, and the sinking of the Titanic. Many in each disaster were Christians, and only the body was lost, but we let the rum destroyer, bring to the eternal death, more victims every year, than all those who lose their lives in every disaster in two whole decades. Can you realize that the following statement is true. Yet I copy it from the Bulletin, North Carolina state board of health, 1912: "Liquor is to blame for more deaths in four years than were destroyed in action in the four years of the civil war."

"Liquor is to blame for one of ten male deaths."

There is an old adage, that says, "Give the devil enough rope, and he will hang himself. But is that a safe way of reform. True, it is, that God's work can grow, without us; but can we grow without God's work? If we remain neutral, will we not become stagnant, and breathe out a miasma, that weakens others, and poisons the atmosphere which should give life and health and vigor?"

I fear that there are numbers of Sodoms in our nation, but to us, in the rural districts, it is hard to grasp the awful iniquity in the larger cities. So let us come to a personal understanding of the question and liken our bodies to a city.

The brain, with its busy working, is the business part of the city. The heart, is the home district where the citizens of our city dwell. The liver is the city hall where in the government of our city is transacted. The stomach and kidneys are the police force and other officials, who do the bidding of those in the city hall.

By the way, I have often wondered what became of that big shipment of beer, that was so miraculously (?) discovered some time ago in Jacksonville. Might there not be danger of appendicitis, if it is allowed to pass through the stomach with out being better digested. When the homes are full of love and brotherly kindness, and purity, they send to the business department, clean business principles, keen appreciation of opportunity to help others, enterprise, and they diffuse through the whole city a moral atmosphere that will make it a safe refuge for the unfortunate, and a valuable asset to the nation.

A bad liver has ruined many good heads and brains, just as bad politicians and corrupt government, ruins many a city.

When one lets alcohol, and tobacco, and greed, and filthy thoughts, and impure conversation, jealousies, malice and love of evil, enter the body, it is no longer a Holy city, where in the Holy Spirit is king, but it becomes a veritable Sodom, and is destroyed without remedy.

A man said to me, "I don't think it is right for God to send me to hell; I have never done anything very bad." I said, "God does not send you to hell. When he created the laws of nature, one of the most infallible laws, was that, like seeks its like."

I cannot conceive of a greater punishment than for a selfish, swearing, drinking, foul-mouthed man, to be suddenly ushered into Heaven, with those who have come up through great tribulation, and whose robes are washed in the blood of the Lamb.

I said it is one of nature's laws for like to seek its like, and, it, perchance, a dog, mothers a kitten, or a cat gives nourishment to a baby rabbit, or a rooster broods over some little chickens, it is considered so rare a coincidence, that the papers publish it, from sea to sea. It is the human race that has defied the law of nature, and it is no uncommon thing to see a sweet, pure, innocent girl keep company with an insolent, dissolute boy, and often she marries him; and we let her perish in Sodom. It is as incongruous as the mating of a dove and a buzzard.

Our nation is simply a collection of homes. Our homes are simply a collection of individuals; so if each individual is not pure and wholesome, there is a disease in the home, and every morally diseased home cripples a nation, in proportion to the danger of infection to others.

The brewery, distillery, and saloon are leper spots on our national body, and they will either bring the great glorious, beautiful America to a twentieth century Sodom, or they must be cured.

How much are you responsible?

GETTING READY FOR

EXTRA SESSION

Washington, D. C., March 4.—With the change in the national administration now an accomplished fact political interest turns to the extra session of congress which will assemble four weeks from today.

The Democrats will be kept busy during the four weeks, since there is a vast amount of work to be accomplished before congress meets. The first important steps will be taken tomorrow, when the Democrats of both the senate and house will meet in caucus to settle upon the personnel of the important committees and to informally discuss questions of policy. The senate caucus is expected to settle the question as to the leadership of the majority in the upper house. Senator Kern of Indiana, candidate for vice-president in 1908, has been selected as the candidate of the Progressive Democrats against Senator Martin of Virginia, who now holds the leadership. The caucus of the Democratic house members is not expected to develop anything of great interest. If present expectations are fulfilled the caucus will confirm to serve again all of the hold over Democrats now on the ways and means committee and fill the Democratic vacancies caused by the retirement of Representatives James of Kentucky, Randall of Texas and Brantley of Georgia.

CELEBRATES THE DAY.

New Orleans, La., March 4.—New Orleans made merry today in honor of the inauguration of the first southern-born president that the nation has had in nearly half a century. Canal street and other leading thoroughfares were decorated with flags and when the bulletin came announcing that Mr. Wilson had taken the oath of office every boat in the harbor tied down its whistle. This, added to the din that was originating from all varieties of noise-making devices in the hands of the crowds, rolled out over the lowlands and was caught up by the boats on Lake Pontchartrain. It is probable that never before, during the history of the city, has there been such a jollification taken place in this strongly Catholic city.

PETITION FILED FOR PROGRESSIVE CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER

William Mortimer's Name to Be on Third Party Ticket at Primary April 8th.

A petition was filed Tuesday with C. A. Boruff, county clerk by Thomas Stevenson and Fred W. Sibert for William Mortimer as a progressive candidate for county commissioner. The petition is signed by the following persons with their residence addresses in the usual form.

M. T. Layman, Thomas Stevenson, F. W. Sibert, J. B. Seng, C. R. Taylor, A. H. Cassell, J. W. Priest, R. T. Cassell, Thomas Harrison, C. H. Hackett, J. E. Wright, Phil Hackman, Jos. Smith, R. W. Megginson, John Veria, Henry DeCastro, John Oliver, J. DeCastro, T. B. Orsair, J. R. Robertson, Clyde R. Richardson, W. F. Council, H. H. Massey, J. P. Hopper, F. H. Montgomery, Charles Hopper, J. M. Wolfe, T. P. Carter, Joseph Estaque and Harry Salby.

The primary election is to be held April 8th and at that time there will be various questions to settle as to the rights of voters. Under the law no person will be entitled to vote the democratic ticket for example who within two years time has taken part in the primary election of any other party. This of course applies in the same way to other parties and a voter who has taken part in a Republican primary within a period of two years will not have a right to vote in a Progressive primary.

AN ATTRACTION WELL WORTH SEEING.

Werba & Luescher's ornate production of the joyous musical success "The Spring Maid" is the attraction booked for tonight at the Grand that is well worth seeing. This bubbling operetta has established itself as a favorite in all the principal cities of this country and Europe, having won the approval of music-lovers from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean in two coast-to-coast tours last season.

There are, doubtless, many hundreds of music lovers in the city who already know and love many gems of melody from the tuneful score of this delightful work. For many months its pretty melodies, including "Day Dreams," "Two Little Love Birds" and "Fountain Fay" have been the best sellers on the phonograph records and in sheet music form. In this way nearly every home where good music is a feature has included one or all of these delightful songs in the family repertoire.

KLAUS AND PAPKE READY FOR BATTLE

Paris, March 4.—Frank Klaus and Billy Papke, the rival American fighters who are generally recognized as foremost among the world's middleweight boxers, are to meet in this city tomorrow night for a twenty-five-round contest. Both men are reported in the pink of condition. Seldom has a fight attracted so much attention among the followers of the sport in Paris and throughout France. The management of the club under whose auspices the mill will take place expects a record-breaking crowd. The extraordinary amount of interest may be attributed in large part to the fact that the two Americans already have beaten George Carpentier and Marcel Moreau, who are considered the best of the French fighters.

TO BOOST BETTER HIGHWAYS.

Washington, D. C., March 4.—Preparations are completed for the convention of the National Good Roads' association, which will hold forth in this city the latter half of this week. ELECTION OF A U. S. SENATOR.

The Journal:

In view of the recent attempt of the legislature to elect a United States senator by a less number of votes than a majority of all members elected to both houses, it has occurred to me that many of your readers may be interested in knowing the state of the law on that subject.

The election of U. S. senators is governed exclusively by the constitution and laws of the United States. The constitution merely provides that, "The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each state, chosen by the legislature thereof, for six years."

By an act of congress enacted in 1866, and in force since that date, the manner of electing senators is prescribed. After providing for a vote in each house of the legislature separately and then for a vote in joint assembly, it provides: "The joint assembly shall then proceed to choose, by a viva voce vote of each member present, a person for senator, and the person who receives a majority of all the votes of the joint assembly, a majority of all the members elected to both houses being present and voting, shall be declared elected."

From the above it will be seen that there are two essential requisites, 1st, a majority of all the members elected to both houses must be present and voting—that is, a quorum, which at this time is 103 votes. 2nd, The person who receives a majority of these votes shall be declared elected. It is not enough to receive a majority of a quorum unless there is a quorum present and voting. On the day that some parties claimed that Mr. Lewis was elected senator, the newspapers reported only 71 persons present and voting, of which number Mr. Lewis received 66. Assuming these newspaper reports to be correct, this constituted no election, for the reason that the record did not show a quorum to be "present and voting."

Yours, etc.,
Thos. Worthington.

VINOL HELPS OLD PEOPLE

Here is Proof That it Creates Strength.

So many cases like this are constantly coming to our attention that we publish it for the benefit of others.—Mrs. James McCormick of Cohoes, N. Y., says: "My mother is an elderly lady and after having pneumonia she did not seem to recover her strength. She was so weak it was about as much as she could do to get from her room into the living room. Her strength seemed to be all gone. I commenced to give her Vinol and in less than a week she was like a new woman. She had regained her strength so she could get around anywhere."

It is the medicinal curative elements of the cod livers without oil aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron which are contained in Vinol that makes it so efficient in such cases.

If you have an aged father, mother or anyone in your family who needs a strength-creating tonic, try Vinol on our offer to give back your money if it fails to benefit. Lee, P. Alcott, Druggist, Jacksonville, Illinois.

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress
Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expand without any strain upon the ligaments and enables women to go through maternity without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found a wonderful, penetrating remedy to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some prospective mother to whom a word in time about Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists, and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only, and is really worth its weight in gold. Write to-day to the Bradford Regulator Co., 127 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book.

There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived in reading this little book. It is plainly written, just what every woman wants to know, and will be a splendid little textbook for guidance, not only for yourself, but will make you helpful to others. And, in the meantime, do not fail to get a bottle of Mother's Friend at the drug store, and thus fortify yourself against any and all pain and discomfort.

JACKSONVILLE PEOPLE ENJOY STAY IN THE WEST

Interesting Sights in Utah and California Are Described.

(By S. W. Nichols)

Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, Feb. 15. Dear Journal: So far on our great journey and all is well and we have made reasonably good time enroute. Our Wabash train was on time when we left and as I saw my friends wanted to make a short stop in Kansas City we started in the morning. They wired ahead at Hannibal and when we reached that place we had four minutes in which to catch an M. K. & T. train, which landed us in Moberly in season to transfer to a swell Wabash train from St. Louis. The cars are all steel, the appearance and safer than any other and they put us in Kansas City on time and we had a pleasant visit.

Denver was reached on time and from Jacksonville we had a very acceptable and pleasant addition to our number in Mrs. W. H. Wright and Miss Bertha who proved charming companions. Soon after leaving Denver the grand mountain scenery began to come into view and during the entire day it was a series of delights not to be forgotten. Pike's Peak reared aloft its head, clothed in a glistening crown of snow and ice and all along the range stately summits towered aloft, while a snow storm added to the wonderful effect of the view.

Of course the Royal Gorge was the chief place of interest and an obliging brakeman helped us to get a good view of it and though I had seen it so many times, it still had its usual attractions for me, while my friends were in raptures and well they might be, for it is one of the wonderful sights of the world. For over seven miles we follow the tortuous course of the Arkansas river, while on every side gigantic rocks rear their mighty peaks, often more than half a mile in height, making a picture simply unsurpassed. Grand and glorious are the works of our Creator and amid such scenes one feels much nearer the great Source of all things than at any other time. The engineering on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad along this piece of track is considered an unusual feat and one which many pronounced impossible before it was undertaken. The great curiosity, is such it may be termed, is the hanging bridge. They came to a chasm by which it would have been very difficult and expensive to cut a shelf in the rocks for the track and so they fastened steel beams together and the ends at a right angle and anchored the other ends in the rocks in the shape of an inverted Y and suspended the track from them with great iron rods, many times both ends of the train are plainly in view and it is strange and wonderful always and especially so to those who see it for the first time, as was the case with my friends. I was sorry not to be able to stay all night at Salida and take in Marshall Pass, but lack of time made it out of the question and we had to go on and pass over some of the fine scenery in the dark.

We rode on the next day in Utah and most of the scenery was tame and uninteresting, but we had a merry party and didn't mind it.

Arriving at Salt Lake City I soon found my good friends, Mrs. T. G. M. Smith, with whom I put up so many times, and we were made welcome at once. The train was nearly on time, so we were enabled to take an extended stroll about the place taking in the Beehive, where Brigham Young used to have some of his numerous wives, the Lion house where good Mormons come to be tithed, the cemetery in which lie the bodies of Brigham and some of his wives, the new and magnificent Utah hotel which was built to circumvent a similar structure started by a Gentile, and which the church has managed to set back, some of the fine stores and a number of other sights.

While we were out a lively snow storm came up and I began to fear I had chosen the wrong route to the coast, for I saw my friends in the distance and the main scenery, which is all right when conditions are normal, but when one is laid out by a heavy snow and has to stay on the train and lose his connections it isn't so pleasant. The storm soon ceased, however, and in due time I found myself in this place, we had our first disappointment, for the great tabernacle which I especially wished my friends to see was closed for repairs and we failed to hear the mighty organ and choir of several hundred voices, but we made the best of it and Sunday morning attended the First Methodist church, according to program and stayed in the afternoon except for a short walk. The tabernacle, which is always at 2 p. m. of our stay, always make it a point to attend religious services in a church of my own belief when in this city at any time.

We heard a fine sermon by Dr. Short, the pastor, and it is needless to add that the name brought up memories of a sacred nature and recollection of a man whom so many loved. After church came Sunday school, to which I remained, though all the rest would go back home, but by some means Mrs. Wright and Bertha and Mrs. Ewert came separately from Mr. Ewert and Henrietta and decided that as dinner would be ready quite late they would see a little of the city, so they boarded a street car and where do you suppose they went?

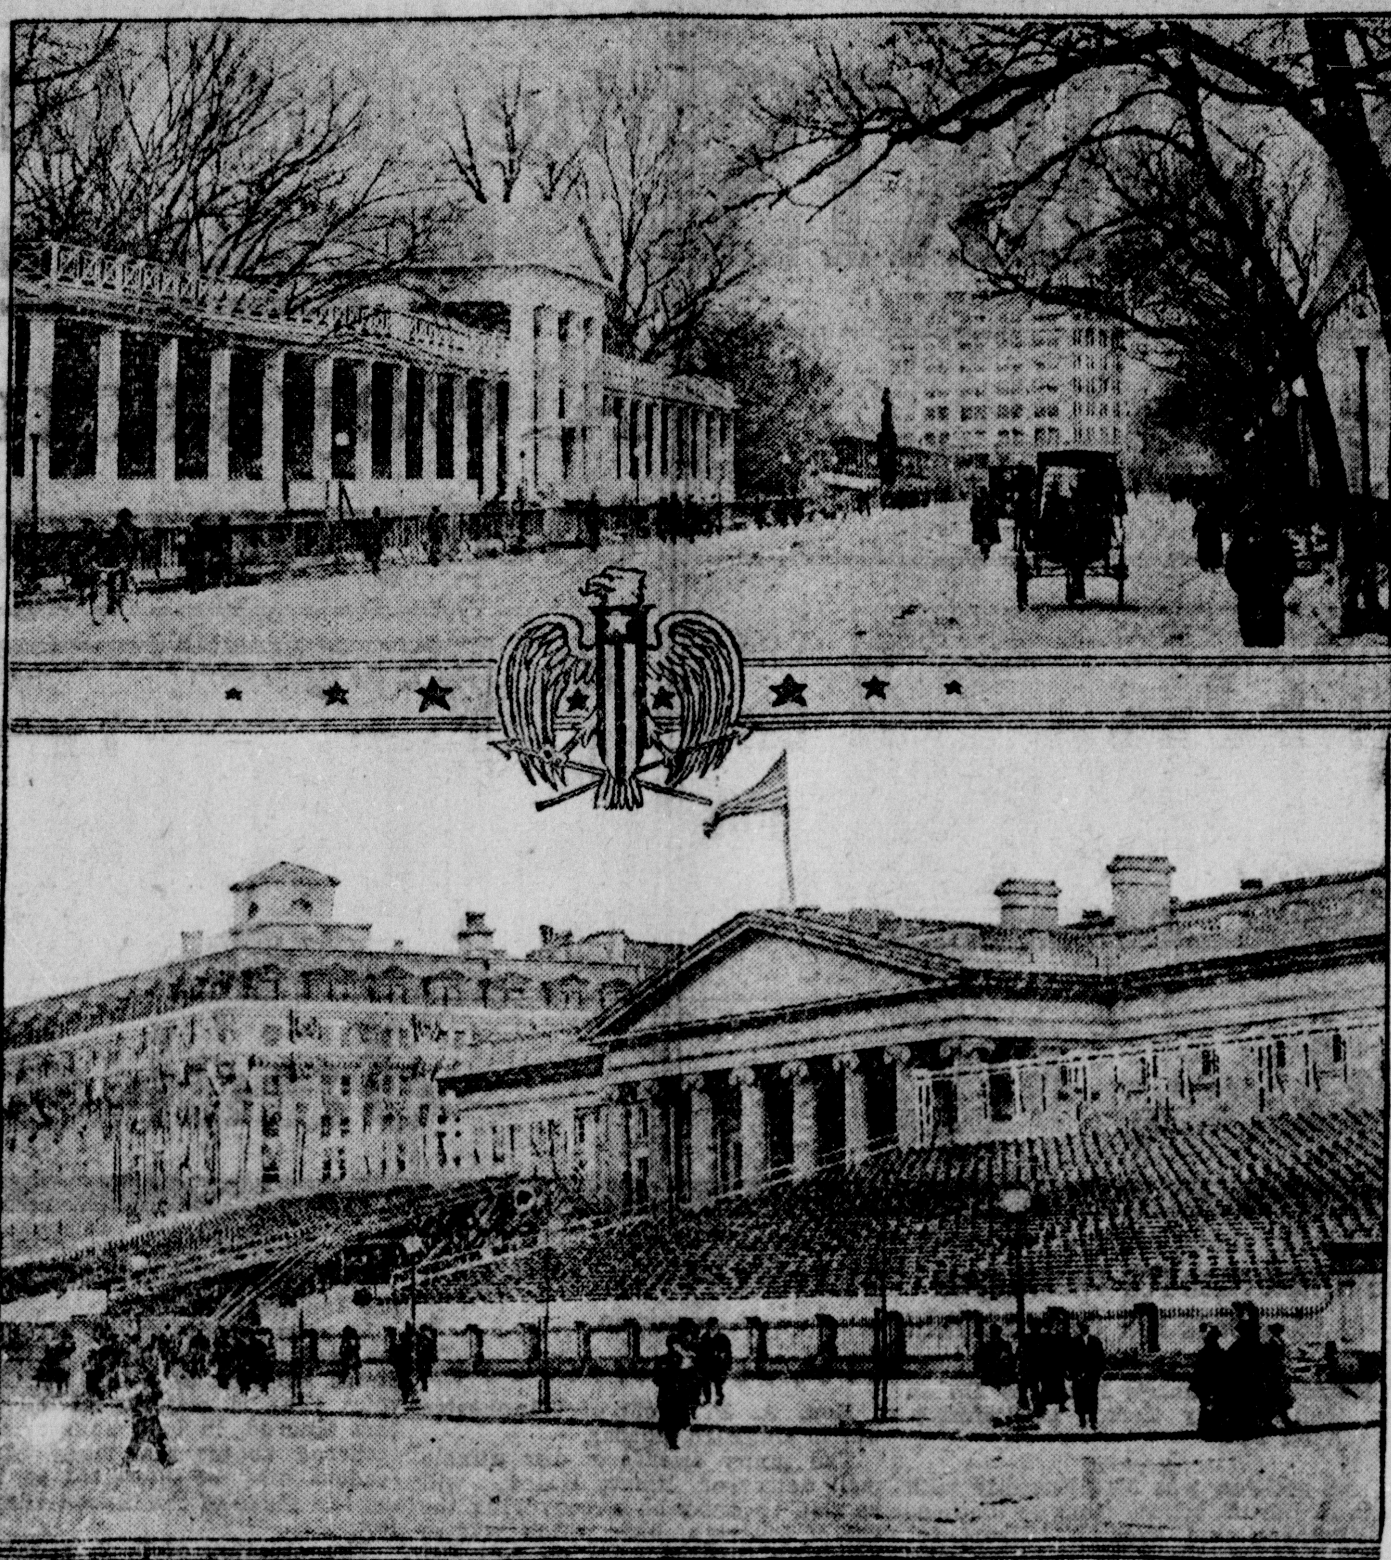

"To the Mormon temple grounds?"
No.
"To the fort?"
No.
"The salt place?"
No. Give it up?
"Guess we must."
Well, the boarded a street car and kept on, going and going and past the fort, the city limits and still they kept on going till they stopped at the state penitentiary and though it was Sunday they were courteously admitted and received all possible attention from the obliging officials in charge and just as we were beginning to feel somewhat concerned over their prolonged absence they showed up all exhilarated by their long ride in the crisp winter air. We gave them a small lecture, but they felt wholly justified in their course, insisting that Mr. Ewert had gone away from them and he was insisting that he had not as he supposed they knew where he was and would follow.

Monday we started away from Ogden, not far from Salt Lake City, strictly on time and had a fine ride, the rest of the way. We all settled down and we felt relieved when we passed away safely from Reno and lost none of the married people of our number in that city of divorces made famous by the match between Jeffries and Johnson.

The scenery during the last day of the ride was simply glorious and we can never forget it. Peak after peak arose, snow clad and towering among the clouds, and though it was long to be remembered. We rode over the great divide drawn by one of those mighty engines of the building type, that two powerful locomotives attached to one tender and cab and managed by one engineer. Fortunately they were used, so we had no end to trouble us and up the great incline we went, a long train but pulled with ease by the monster in front. The engineer invited us all to climb into the cab while he was waiting to start and it was like getting into the second story of a dwelling, as he had a regular ladder with a number of rounds. I couldn't help admiring the monster and thinking how grandly it seemed, but the people had dug paths about their homes and were glad we were not troubled by it, as the elaborate system of snow sheds keeps the track comparatively free of obstruction. It rather made us shiver, though the cars were generally comfortable and much of the time too hot, but before night we had descended into the valley where palm trees were flourishing and verdure abundant wherever bright sun was possible. It seemed like a dream, but it was a sober reality.

Mrs. Wright's sons are at Richmond, a suburb across the bay and she secured orders to have the train stop and let her and Bertha off and the boys were there to meet them and we separated with sincere regrets. I never enjoyed a railroad ride more in my life. It was from start to finish like a prolonged holiday, with games, fun, conversation and pleasures abounding and it seemed impossible that we had been so long on the way. Mrs. Wright and Bertha we found charming traveling companions and we only wished they were going all the way with us.

Photos copyright, 1913, by American Press Association.

In preparations along the line of march for the great parade at the inauguration of President Wilson the two most important points were considered the court of honor and the grand stands in front of the treasury building. The structure in the court of honor was built as the place where the president should stand in reviewing the parade. The largest grand stands were erected in front of the treasury building. Above at the top is a view of the president's reviewing stand and below the structure in front of the treasury building.

We arrived on time to a minute and crossing the ferry had a fine view of the ferry station tower, illuminated with thousands of electric lights from top to bottom, while just below the top are the figures 1913 conspicuously displayed and calling attention to the great exposition for which they are preparing. All the coast is awake to that great event and it is hoped it will be a success.

Our stay in San Francisco was very pleasant and right here I want to remark that ours is as pleasant and congenial a company as one could ask and all goes well without any differences. We found the Winchester hotel, at which we engaged rooms, and next day started out to see the sights. I was here two years after the great disaster and all over the city were buildings half or wholly demolished and here and there were new ones completed, but now hardly a trace of the effects of the fire or earthquake is to be seen. They say the fire was far more destructive than the quake and to guard against that they have established a double water supply system so that they can draw from the bay or ocean for fire purposes in case of emergency.

Little Hallie May, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bridges was born January 11th, 1913 and died Feb. 25, 1913. Besides her parents she leaves to mourn her loss, one sister, Hazel, four brothers, Harry, Stacey, Harvey and Truman and a host of relatives. Her stay on earth was very brief but she had long since found her way into the hearts of those around her. And she has passed on beyond. We will only regard her as a link in the chain which draws us to that better land.

We loved her, yes we loved her, But the Angels loved her more, And they have sweetly called her To yonder shining shore.

The golden gates were opened A gentle voice said come, And with farewells unspoken She calmly entered home.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to make known our sincere appreciation of the kindness and sympathy extended during the illness of our dear baby. Our heartfelt thanks are hereby extended to one and all who contributed by word or deed to the alleviation of sorrow and pain.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bridges.

NOTICE

To Farmers and Stock Raisers

We are now manufacturing under State License, the best Brand of hog food on market known as "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD". It is far superior to any Brand of Hog food on the market to day. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906, Serial No. 47,673. Guaranteed analysis as follows:

Crude Fat.....10.00 to 14 per cent
Crude Protein.....32.50 to 60 per cent
Crude Fibre.....1.00 to 3 per cent
Phosphate.....10.00 to 12 per cent

What Is "Sure Fatten Hog Food"

It is a dark colored granular meal, made from meat residues, and it supplies the protein and phosphates necessary for compounding a balanced ration in most economical and palatable form.

It contains phosphates in proper proportion to insure strength of bone and frame work. In the corn belt bone development is a matter of serious consideration.

It is not a substitute for corn, but a small quantity fed in connection with corn or other grains gives a balanced ration.

It is the most economical source of digestible protein known, containing twice as much protein as oil meal and five times as much as middlings, shorts, shipstuf, or alfalfa meal.

TANKAGE recommended by all leading experiment stations.

It is packed in one-hundred-pound burlap sack, plainly marked "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD," analysis as above.

It is the ideal feed to balance rations.

What "Sure Fatten Hog Food" Tankage Does.

It develops bone and muscle in young pigs and makes them grow. It matures a hog for market in two and three months quicker than corn alone, thereby, saving one third of the feed bill, one third of the labor, one third of the risk, increasing profits one third.

It grows better proportioned hogs, more meat, a d more fat, hence market-topper hogs. SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD TANKAGE fed hogs ship well with small shrink.

While in nowise a medicine, it so fortifies and strengthens the system against attacks of disease germs that SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD TANKAGE fed hogs are universally healthy hogs.

NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

That preparation and dandruff cure, as a rule, are either of irritating nature that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

RASH ALMOST COVERED FACE

And Arms. Terrible Itching. Blistery Sores on Arms and Limbs. Could not Sleep. Used Cuticura Remedies. Entirely Rid of All Skin Eruptions.

Warrenville, O.—"I have felt the effects of blood poisoning for eighteen years. I was never without some eruptions on my body.

The terrible itching caused me much suffering and discomfort, while the rubbing and scratching made it worse.

"Last spring I had a terrible breaking out of blistery sores on my arms and limbs. My face and arms were almost covered with rash. I could not sleep and lost nineteen pounds in five weeks.

My face was terribly red and sore, and felt as if my skin was on fire. At last I tried a sample of Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and I found them so cool, soothing and healing that I got some Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Resolvent.

I bathed with hot water and Cuticura Soap, then I applied the Cuticura Ointment every night for two months, and I am entirely cured of all skin eruptions." (Signed) Mrs. Kathryn Kraft, Nov. 28, 1911.

Cuticura Soap is best for skin and hair because of its extreme purity, delicate yet effective medication, and refreshing fragrance. It costs but little more than ordinary soaps, wears to a wafer and gives comfort and satisfaction every moment of its use, for toilet, bath and nursery. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

For tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap shaving stick, 25c. Sample free.

WILSON'S VIEWS GIVEN TO NATION

Inaugural Address of the New President.

DEFINES PEOPLE'S DUTY.

First Obligation of Law is to Keep Society Sound by Sanitary and Pure Food Statutes and Measures Determining Conditions of Labor—Task Not Merely One of Politics.

Washington, March 4.—The inaugural address of President Woodrow Wilson is as follows:

There has been a change of government. It began two years ago, when the house of representatives became Democratic by a decisive majority. It has now been completed. The senate about to assemble will also be Democratic. The offices of president and vice president have been put into the hands of Democrats. What does the change mean? That is the question that is uppermost in our minds today. That is the question I am going to try to answer, in order, if I may, to interpret the occasion.

It means much more than the mere success of a party. The success of a party means little except when the nation is using that party for a large and definite purpose. No one can mistake the purpose for which the nation now seeks to use the Democratic party. It seeks to use it to interpret a change in its own plans and point of view. Some old things with which we had grown familiar and which had begun to creep into the very habit of our thought and of our lives have altered their aspect as we have latterly looked critically upon them with fresh, awakened eyes; have dropped their disguises and shown themselves alien and sinister. Some new things as we look frankly upon them, willing to comprehend their real character, have come to assume the aspect of things long believed in and familiar, stuff of our own convictions. We have been refreshed by a new insight into our own life.

Our Model Government.

We see that in many things life is very great. It is incomparably great in its material aspects, in its body of wealth, in the diversity and sweep of its energy, in the industries which have been conceived and built up by the genius of individual men and the limitless enterprise of groups of men. It is great also, very great, in its moral force. Nowhere else in the world have noble men and women exhibited in more striking forms the beauty and the energy of sympathy and helpfulness and counsel in their efforts to rectify wrong, alleviate suffering and set the weak in the way of strength and hope. We have built up, moreover, a great system of government, which has stood through a long age as in many respects a model for those who seek to set liberty upon foundations that will endure against fortuitous change, against storm and accident. Our life contains every great thing and contains it in rich abundance.

But the evil has come with the good, and much fine gold has been corroded. With riches has come inexcusable waste. We have squandered a great part of what we might have used and have not stopped to conserve the exceeding bounty of nature without which our genius for enterprise would have been worthless and impotent, scornful to be careful, shamefully prodigal as well as admirably efficient. We have been proud of our industrial achievements, but we have not hitherto stopped thoughtfully enough to count the human cost, the cost of lives snuffed out, of energies overtaxed and broken, the fearful physical and spiritual cost to the men and women and children upon whom the dead weight and burden of it all has fallen pitilessly the years through. The groans and agony of it all had not yet reached our ears, the solemn, moving undertone of our life, coming up out of the mines and factories and out of every home where the struggle had its intimate and familiar seat. With the great government went many deep secret things which we too long delayed to look into and scrutinize with candid, fearless eyes. The great government we loved has too often been made use of for private and selfish purposes, and those who used it had forgotten the people.

Duty of Americans Outlined.

At last a vision has been vouchsafed us of our life as a whole. We see the bad with the good, the debased and decadent with the sound and vital. With this vision we approach new affairs. Our duty is to cleanse, to reconsider, to restore, to correct the evil without impairing the good, to purify and humanize every process of our common life without weakening or sentimentalizing it. There has been something crude and heartless and unfeeling in our haste to succeed and be great. Our thought has been, "Let every man look out for himself; let every generation look out for itself," while we reared giant machinery which made it impossible that any but those who stood at the levers of control should have a chance to look out for themselves. We had not forgotten our morals. We remembered well enough that we had set up a policy which was meant to serve the humblest as well as the most powerful, with an eye single to the standards of justice and fair play, and remembered it with pride.

The Drama of London's Fog.

There is a whole world of drama bound up in the chronicles of London's fog. This misty and mysterious visitant, far older than Gog or Magog, which used to visit the watchtowers of the night when the metropolis barely lifted itself out of the surrounding marshes, has a fund of comedy as well as tragedy. Countless murders have been committed under its sheltering cloak, men and women have been waylaid, children have been torn from their mothers and wives from their husbands—London Strand.

But we were very heedless and in a hurry to be great.

We have come now to the sober second thought. The scales of heedlessness have fallen from our eyes. We have made up our minds to square every process of our national life again with the standards we so proudly set up at the beginning and have always carried at our hearts. Our work is a work of restoration.

Things to Be Accomplished.

We have itemized with some degree of particularity the things that ought to be altered, and here are some of the chief items: A tariff which cuts us off from our proper part in the commerce of the world, violates the just principles of taxation and makes the government a facile instrument in the hands of private interests; a banking and currency system based upon the necessity of the government to sell its bonds fifty years ago and perfectly adapted to concentrating cash and restricting credits; an industrial system which, take it on all its sides, financial as well as administrative, holds capital in leading strings, restricts the liberties and limits the opportunities of labor and exploits without renewing or conserving the natural resources of the country; a body of agricultural activities never yet given the efficiency of great business undertakings or served as it should be through the instrumentality of science taken directly to the farm or afforded the facilities of credit best suited to its practical needs; water-courses undeveloped, waste places unreclaimed, forests untended, fast disappearing without plan or prospect of renewal, unregarded waste heaps at every mine. We have studied as perhaps no other nation has the most effective means of production, but we have not studied cost or economy as we should either as organizers of industry, as statesmen or as individuals.

Society's Duty to Itself.

Nor have we studied and perfected the means by which government may be put at the service of humanity in safeguarding the health of the nation, the health of its men and its women and its children, as well as their rights in the struggle for existence. This is no sentimental duty. The firm basis of government is justice, not pity. These are matters of justice. There can be no equality or opportunity, the first essential of justice in the body politic, if men and women and children be not shielded in their lives, their very vitality, from the consequences of great industrial and social processes which they cannot alter, control or singly cope with. Society must see to it that it does not itself crush or weaken or damage its own constituent parts. The first duty of law is to keep sound the society it serves. Sanitary laws, pure food laws and laws determining conditions of labor which individuals are powerless to determine for themselves are intimate parts of the very baseness of justice and legal efficiency.

These are some of the things we ought to do and not leave the others undone, the old fashioned, never to be neglected, fundamental safeguarding of property and of individual right. This is the high enterprise of the new day: To lift everything that concerns our life as a nation to the light that shines from the hearth fire of every man's conscience and vision of the right. It is inconceivable we should do this as partisans; it is inconceivable we should do it in ignorance of the facts as they are or in blind haste. We shall restore, not destroy. We shall deal with our economic system as it is and as it may be modified, not as it might be if we had a clean sheet of paper to write upon, and step by step we shall make it what it should be, in the spirit of those who question their own wisdom and seek counsel and knowledge, not shallow self satisfaction or the excitement of excursions whither they cannot tell. Justice, and only justice, shall always be our motto.

Task Not Merely One of Politics.

And yet it will be no cool process of mere science. The nation has been deeply stirred—stirred by a solemn passion, stirred by the knowledge of wrong, of ideals lost, of government too often debauched and made an instrument of evil. The feelings with which we face this new age of right and opportunity sweep across our heartstrings like some air out of God's own presence, where justice and mercy are reconciled and the judge and the brother are one. We know our task to be no mere task of politics, but a task which shall search us through and through, whether we be able to understand our time and the need of our people, whether we be indeed their spokesmen and interpreters, whether we have the pure heart to comprehend and the rectified will to choose our high course of action.

This is not a day of triumph; it is a day of dedication.

Here must not the forces of party, but the forces of humanity. Men's hearts wait upon us; men's lives hang in the balance; men's hopes call upon us to say what we will do. Who shall live up to the great trust? Who dares fail to try? I summon all honest men, all patriotic, all forward looking men, to my side. God helping me, I will not fail them if they will but counsel and sustain me.

A STRONG REFERENCE.
A young man recently applied for a position with a large printing house, and not having a letter of reference, offered his bank book. It showed a regularity of entries of deposit. It was a very strong recommendation, indicating character and perseverance, which finally secured for him a good position.

THE WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

STOCK MARKET DULL AND NARROW

CHANGE OF GOVERNMENTAL POWER CAUSES MUCH SHIF-TING OF POSITION.

Street Sees Nothing in Inaugural Address to Awaken Apprehension—
Tone Becomes Heavier as Day Progresses.

(By Associated Press)
New York, March 4.—Wall street's chief interest today lay in the progress of events at Washington. So far as was revealed by the stock market the barometer of sentiment in the financial district the coming into power of the new Democratic administration was the occasion of shifting of position for the market was dull and narrow most of the day.

The street saw nothing in the inaugural address of President Wilson to awaken apprehension. Definite indications of the attitude of the administration on matters of concern in the financial district are awaited with eagerness. In the absence of such indications today, the market was permitted to drift. As the day progressed the tone became heavier.

A few of the prominent stocks, including Pennsylvania, Union Pacific,
St. Paul, steel, Amalgamated and Smelting, lost a point or so. Selling was at no time heavy, however. The market missed the sustaining influence of the recent European buying.
London did little in this market.
Berlin sold Canadian Pacific which lost nearly three points. Foreign markets were less cheerful. German bankers were again in this market today, offering five per cent for 30 day money, "exchange guaranteed."

Traction stocks enjoyed no further rise in strength from the approval of the subway contracts, which was discounted in yesterday's quick upturn.
New Haven, which still feels the effect of its poor January statement, fell to 123 1/2, the lowest for a quarter of a century. American coal products against which suit was instituted yesterday and the Sherman law fell 7 points.

MARSHALL HOPES TO PRESIDE FAIRLY

VICE PRESIDENT DELIVERS INAUGURAL IN SENATE.

Points to Fact That Public Often Forgets That Much May Be Said on Both Sides of Great Questions—Senate is Particular Guardian of the People's Honor.

Washington, March 4.—Vice-President Marshall's inaugural address was as follows:

"The prophecies of this occasion probably require a few words from one who is grateful to the American people for the honor heretofore done him and this day consummated."

Tells Ideal For Presiding Officer.
"No senator has, I trust, a keener appreciation of the necessities in the way of tact and courtesy now devolving upon me than I myself. I offer no surety as to my discharge of duties other than a personal pledge that I will seek to familiarize myself with them and will endeavor always to exercise that complaisance and forbearance which are essential to him who presides over great debates upon great public questions by great men."

"Divergent views relative to this body would be less divergent if the American people would come to realize that on all sides of real questions much may truthfully be said. Such an attitude of the public mind would eliminate the view that this body is distinctly deliberative and not thoroughly patriotic."

"Charges of bad faith based upon an attitude of mind or upon conduct should never be made until it is clearly established that the resultant action is the outcome of personal interest or improper and dishonorable business or social relations."

"Your action has not always met with universal approval but up to this good hour no workable substitute for the exercise of the functions of this body has been proposed. It is not needful for me here and now to accept a brief in your defense. This body will continue to stand not because of the patriotism and intelligence of its constituent members and their devotion to our system of government."

Government is the Harness.

"To my mind, government is the harness with which a people draws its load of civilization. If the harness be properly adjusted the load, though heavy, will be drawn with ease and not part of the people will be galled. The senate is intended to keep the people from shying at imaginary dangers and toppling into the ditch our system of government. So long as the blinders serve this purpose they are a most valuable part of the harness, but if they be drawn so closely to the eyes as to prevent the seeing of real dangers, then they should either be spread or done away with entirely. I am one of those who think that we can so adjust our blinders as to meet new conditions and render us sanely responsive to every reasonable demand of the people without disturbing any of the checks and balances of our system of government and preserving with loyalty and fidelity the ancient ideals of the Republic."

"With neither right nor desire to infringe upon the prerogatives of the president as soon to be, I beg the expression of the opinion that whoever divine views may be held relative to the work of this body all persons are agreed that under the constitution the senate of the United States is singularly the guardian of the people's honor; that more and more, as righteousness is exalted among this people, the idea is becoming more firmly fixed that it is not vast territory, great wealth nor large learning which mark the real status of America; that America is to be measured by the golden meteor of honor; and, as the idea in her formation was the inherent right of men to rule themselves, that now she call ill afford to announce this doctrine in her own land and renounce it for an instrument of oppression in other lands."

Honor the Basis of Treaties.

"Unfortunately there is no fixed standard of honor outside the dictionary. The gambler may hold it to consist in paying his gaming debts the member of the smart set, in divorcing his neighbor's wife before taking her unto himself; the Senator in eliminating personalities. But when we enter the chancelleries of the world and submit to their respected we can hope to be measured in but one way; and we must be able to show that the solemn treaty obligations of this Republic will be kept with the same scrupulous honesty, both of spirit and letter, whether made with the humblest people of this continent struggling for self-government or with the mightiest monarch of the old world."

"This high sense of honors constitutes the panoply of the American people. Armies and battlefields furnish no substitute for it. These are valuable but the people never intended that authority should use them as accessories to a burglar's kit."

"If any one in the name of the American people, either in violation of treaty obligations or the manifest purpose of the Monroe doctrine, has taken ought within this body was deliberating, it is your duty to ascertain all facts thereto. And if wrong or injustice has been done, even to the humblest republic, let this people be brave enough and sufficiently honest to make reparation. The real greatness of this republic rests upon its unshaken honor and it is the duty of this body to search down rumors of bad faith and dishonesty and rectify wrong wherever wrong is discovered."

"Here in this most sacred spot where has been made and peace declared, here in the presence of the distinguished representatives of the governments of the civilized world, here, within the hearing of the beauty culture and ripened statecraft of his own land, may one humble American express the hope before he enters upon a four year's silence that all diplomacy may spell peace with all peoples, justice for all governments and righteousness the world around."

URANIA LODGE HOLD ELECTION AND INITIATION

Organization to Purchase New Paraphernalia—Charles Seymour Presents Bible to Lodge.

At a meeting of Urania lodge No. 243, I. O. O. F. held Monday evening a class of ten were given the initiatory degree and an election of officers held. The lodge also voted to buy an entire new outfit of regalia and paraphernalia for their excellent degree staff and a committee consisting of E. E. Henderson, Carl H. Weber and C. E. Seymour was commissioned to do the purchasing. They expect to have it here within thirty days when a special evening of exhibition degree work will be given.

During the evening Charles E. Seymour presented the lodge with a large family sized bible for the altar to take the place of the old one which has done service or many years. The book is appropriately engraved in gold lettering and dedicated to the lodge. Robert Tilton made the speech of presentation and the gift was greatly appreciated and prized by all present. A number of the members voiced their gratitude in some beautiful speeches and a vote of thanks was given Mr. Seymour for this thoughtfulness in this respect.

Work was given in the initiatory degree to Messrs. Lambert Taylor, C. F. Kins, Maurice Peckham, James A. Guyett, Walter A. Busey, Horatio Black, Fred Clark, George W. Spies, Clinton Moore and T. B. Reeve. The work was given in a spirited style and was greatly enjoyed by all present. After the degree work a social time was enjoyed in honor of the new members. Pure, and noble with a vision so broad and enduring that she found a sweet fellowship among God's people wherever found.

MADE EFFORT TO GET STATE FARMERS MEETING HERE

Delegation Went to Springfield to Secure Convention—Galesburg Won Out But Jacksonville Is Given Hope for Year Following.

Jacksonville was a strong contender for entertaining the next Farmer's Institute of Illinois which meets in February 1914. A delegation consisting of Commissioner Knollenberg for the city, Secretary Fritchey, representing the Chamber of Commerce, E. D. Scott, President of the Morgan County Institute, and E. C. Story, superintendent of the Institute journeyed to Springfield and made a fight for bringing the convention to Jacksonville before the board of directors which was in session here.

Galesburg and Lincoln sent large delegations, including their mayor, President of their Commercial organizations and the heads of their respective educational institutions. They arrived the evening before and were hard at work before the Jacksonville crowd arrived. Other cities competing for the convention were Peoria, Carbondale and Mt. Vernon.

Each delegation was given fifteen minutes to speak of the advantages of their home city and why they should have the privilege of entertaining the institute. Secretary Fritchey received a long distance message from the State Secretary, Mr. McKee last evening stating that although Galesburg had been awarded this most important convention, that the Jacksonville delegation had made a very favorable impression and sentiments had been expressed to remember Jacksonville the following year. This news was no surprise as Galesburg has never entertained this convention before and that city has been bidding for it the last four or five years.

The State Institute met in this city thirteen years ago and since that time there has never been enough interest shown to ask it to return. To compete successfully with other cities in seeking conventions Jacksonville will have to have a convention bureau to plan and work for securing such gatherings. Jacksonville is better equipped than many other cities to care for visitors and there are many attractions here and these facts must be emphasized.

The last meeting of this convention was held in Sterling and over 5,000 persons attended. The institute is worth fighting for and this year's attempt should serve to spur us on to further action. The Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce would be pleased to have the dates of any of the more important conventions representing the different lines of business in the city.

MARKET LETTERS.

Chicago Livestock Market.

Chicago, March 3.—Oliver S. Green, with Herreid & Co., U. S. Yards, Chicago, Ill., reports the estimated receipts for Monday, March 3, 1913:

Cattle, 17,000; hogs, 32,000; sheep, 22,000.

With the run 5,000 short of what had been looked for, the market was active and generally 15c higher. Some sales looked 2c to 25c higher. Handy weights and fat heavy cattle secured the most advance, three carloads averaging 1528 at $9.25. A liberal list of handy medium and good weight beefs, $8.75 to $9. Plain and common killers below $8 had the least call. Butcher stock 10 to 15c up. Some heifers 25c higher, bulls, 10c higher, calves largely steady.

Receipts of feeders light and 10 to 15c higher. Hogs opened 15 to 20c higher, with a liberal number of good lights at $8.70. Late market 5 to 10c lower.

With a moderate run of sheep and lambs, sheep sold 10c higher, lambs 10 to 15c higher, but few remained unsold at the close. Fat cows, $4.70 to $7.50; heifers, $5.25 to $8.20; bulls, $5.20 to $7; canners and cutters, $3.35 to $4.65; inferior stockers to good feeders, $5.75 to $7.60; selected stockers and feeders $7.75 to $8, with choice selected feeders $9.50 to $15, $8 to $8.25.

We quote—Native beef steers, choice to prime heavy, $8.90 to $9.25; choice prime yearlings, $8.25 to $9; common to fair yearlings, $7.40 to $8.15; good to choice corn feds, $8.60 to $8.25; medium to good short feds, $8.25 to $8.50; plain to medium warmed ups, $7.80 to $8.20; common to plain steers, $7.50 to $7.80; inferior to rough steers, $6.85 to $7.10.

Native lambs, choice to fancy, $8.40 to $8.65; native lambs, inferior to good, $7.75 to $8.35; western lambs, choice to prime, $8.50 to $8.75; native ewes, poor to prime, $4.75 to $6.35; western wethers, $6.15 to $6.80; native wethers, poor to prime, $6.25 to $6.75.

Kansas City Livestock Market.

Kansas City Stock Yards, March 3.—Stock cattle and feeders made new price records last week, despite the fact that some of the commission men are getting cold feet, and are disposed to fly the danger signal. Shipments to the country last week were lighter than heretofore, barely 9,000 head going out, but it was solely because of lack of supply. Outside of the fact that most feed lot deals this winter that have been closed out show a profit of five to twenty dollars a head on cattle, the main incentive for the extraordinary country demand is plenty of feed, and few cattle to consume it. Mr. C. W. Fisher, Ashland, Illinois, who bought feeders here last week, had this to say, "We are loaded down with corn that can be had at 40 to 42 cents a bushel. I think there were no feeders who lost money this winter; they had the weather to help them, also good markets and cheap feed." Feeder buyers come from no especial locality, but the demand is widespread. An instance of long distance buying was that of J. E. Creed, Centerville, Michigan, who purchased 50 choice stock steers weighing 475 pounds here last week. The cattle run here today is 10,000 head, market steady to strong on country grades, killing cattle strong to 10c higher. Stock steers bring $6.75 to $8.25, feeding steers, $7.60 to $8.30; stock cows and heifers $5.00 to $6.75; stock calves $5.50 to $8.00. Prime beef steers sold up to $9.00 last week, though $8.80 is the top today, bulk at $7.90 to $8.60; quarantine steers $6.75 to $8.15 today; native cows $5.50 to $6.75; bulls, $5.50 to $7; veal calves $8.00 to $9.75.

Chronic Stomach Trouble Cured.

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. Is it not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle? "About one year ago," says P. H. Beck, of Wakelee, Mich., "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit." For sale by all dealers.

ORDERS EFFECTING THE PARCEL POST SERVICE

Regulations of New System Are Amended Relative to C. O. D. Parcel—Business On Increase at Local Office.

The parcel post service of the government is becoming more popular at the Jacksonville office and each passing week sees an increase in the amount of packages sent. More and more of the merchants are learning of the advantages of the new system. A count was kept for three days the past week and there were 1200 packages sent in and distributed by the carriers.

Postmaster General Hitchcock has just issued some parcel post regulations, which will become effective July 1. Some of them follow:

The sender of a mailable parcel on which the postage is fully prepaid may have the price of the article and the charges thereon collected from the address on the payment of a fee of ten cents, in parcel post stamps affixed, provided the amount to be collected does not exceed $100. Such a parcel will be insured against loss, without additional charge, in an equivalent to its actual value, but not to exceed $50.

A C. O. D. parcel will be accepted for mailing only at a money order office and when addressed to a money order office. The postmaster at the mailing office will be held responsible for the postage required for the return of a parcel addressed to a non-money order office.

The C. O. D. tag must show the amount due the sender, the money order fee necessary to make the remittance and the total amount to be collected. It should be securely attached to the parcel, which should be numbered to correspond with the tag, stamped C. O. D. and the charge to be collected plainly written thereon. The parcel will be treated as ordinary mail until it reaches the office of address, where, on payment of all charges, it will be delivered to the addressee or, unless otherwise directed by the addressee, to the person, firm or corporation in whose care it is addressed, or to any responsible person to whom the addressee's ordinary mail is customarily delivered. Receipt for the parcel must be obtained on the tag attached thereto.

When a C. O. D. parcel is received without the tag attached, the charges shown on the parcel must be collected and the prescribed receipt obtained from the addressee.

The addressee will not be permitted to examine the contents of a C. O. D. parcel, until it has been receipted for and all charges paid. A parcel may be refused, when it is tendered for delivery, but after delivery has been effected it can not be returned on account of dissatisfaction with the contents or the amount due collected.

The department will not be responsible for errors made by senders in stating the collection charges or for any misunderstanding between senders and addressees regarding the character or contents of parcels.

Says Nine Departments Enough.
In signing the bill providing for a department of labor, President Taft left with congress a memorandum explaining the conviction that nine departments are enough to conduct the government. He said:

"I sign this bill with considerable hesitation not because I dissent from the purpose of congress to create a department of labor but because I think that nine departments are enough for the proper administration of the government and because I think that no new department ought to be created without a re-organization of all departments in the government and a redistribution of the bureaus between them. The distribution of bureaus between the existing departments is far from being economical or logical, and if there is one thing that is needed in the present situation it is a re-organization of our government on business principles and with a view to economy in the administration of the regular governmental machinery."

"I forebear, however, to veto this bill because my motive in doing so would be misunderstood. There is no provision in the bill itself for a recommendation by the head of the new department as to the re-organization of bureaus that may itself lead to general re-organization, which is so much desired."

CAFES IN BRAZIL.

With a Glimpse of Rio de Janeiro's Twenty Foot Wide Broadway.

Downtown in the commercial part of Rio de Janeiro is the noisy, vivacious Rua do Ouvidor, of all things Rio de Janeiro the one that possesses the most individuality, the place where everybody who is anybody is to be seen.

It is only about twenty feet wide. Just think of it—the Broadway of a great city like Rio!—so narrow and crowded that vehicles are not allowed to go through at certain hours of the day, but most of the somber Portuguese style buildings have been replaced by modern ones, and what it lacks in width is compensated for by the attractiveness of the stores and cafes.

These cafes, principally devoted to the service of the demitasse, are everywhere in Brazil, but here particularly they are the rendezvous for the official, military, professional and more prosperous commercial classes, who drop in at all hours to talk things over to the music of the orchestra—everything from business, religion and politics to the latest society gossip, only they sip coffee, for the most part, instead of highballs and beer.

And such coffee! A North American never realizes what a perfectly delectable flavor coffee really is capable of, how deliciously rich and sirupy it is when brewed by those who know how, until he has drunk it in the orient or down here in Brazil.—From "Through South America," by Harry W. Van Dyke.

SAYS ELECTRIC LINE WILL BE BUILT THIS YEAR

O. J. Lucas Writes John W. Boston That Financial Arrangements For Springfield & Jacksonville Road Have Been Completed.

According to a letter received Tuesday by John W. Boston the Springfield and Jacksonville Electric Railway company has completed financial arrangements for building the road and the work will be resumed early this spring. Mr. Boston had intended going to Springfield today to meet with other members of the committee recently appointed by the conference of property holders and to look up some matters there relative to the company. Now, however, this meeting will be postponed and some further facts will be sought about the company's plans.

The letter referred to was signed by O. J. Lucas, president of the company, the letter head showing that the company maintains an office in the Harris building in Chicago. In the closing paragraph the writer said, "I wish to advise you that the financial arrangements have been made to build the Springfield & Jacksonville railroad this year and we expect to start work early in the spring." Mr. Boston said that he had always found Mr. Lucas entirely reliable in statements made to him.

REPUDIATES CONFESSION.

Chicago, March 4.—Charles Cramer, alias Conway, who is being tried for the murder of Miss Sophia Singer, a Baltimore heiress, in a Chicago rooming house last fall, today on the witness stand in Judge Kersten's court repudiated a confession of the crime he previously had made to the police. The prisoner explained that he had made the confession only in the hope that he might save his wife, Mrs. Beatrice Ryall Cramer, from prosecution. Captain Nootbaer of the Chicago police suggested every item of the confession Cramer swore.
